FACULTY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME

(Training of Trainers for Creating Culture of Entrepreneurship)

In Collaboration with Entrepreneurship Development Institute of India
Ahmedabad

ABOUT THE PROGRAMME

If a country has to develop then it has to create a breed of entrepreneurs who can help the country in terms of job creation and therefore employment generation.

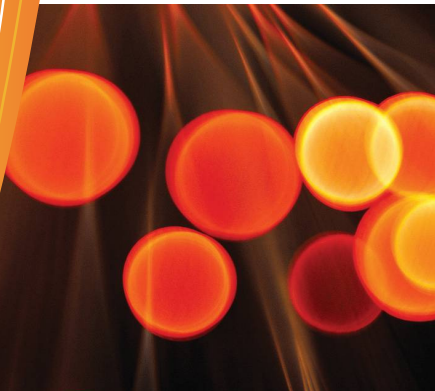

In the 21st century it is quintessential that intensive Faculty Development Programmes be organized as platforms of training to develop a culture of entrepreneurship in the Technology and Management institutes so that the values and ideologies may be passed down to the students and other viable participants. The exercise serves as an employment generating venture if taken care of appropriately. With this objective in mind, the Faculty Development Programme has been designed to help the faculty members explore the sphere of entrepreneurship in detail and thereby develop an understanding of the finer nuances.

Areas such as :

- Who is an Entrepreneur?
- What are the motivations required for developing Entrepreneurship?
- Which are the institutions supporting budding Entrepreneurs?
- What are the formalities that need to be completed in order to register a firm ?
- How to identify a business opportunity?

And many other such critical areas would be touched upon for an in-depth deliberation during the course of this programme. Several experts and professionals have been tied up with for this purpose, who would be sharing their expertise and know how throughout the course of this workshop.

It has been observed that students often lack the motivation to start their own ventures and remain deprived of knowledge of available support systems for the same. This program is being organized with the motive to ensure that students are provided with an awareness of entrepreneurship and the support systems available for entrepreneurs, thereby providing for a holistic educational fabric that remains true to the spirit of learning.
